

The Missing Link in Telco and CRM Integration

Stop Losing Revenue to Incompatible Systems

For too long, businesses have been held back by phone systems and CRMs that simply couldn't integrate.

Teams spend hours on repetitive admin tasks, follow-ups are missed, with critical board level insights never making it into the CRM.

Incomplete or inaccurate data, poor visibility into pipeline activity, and lost opportunities quietly cost companies time, money, and momentum.

“VoxFlo was created to fix this fundamental challenge”

The Problem Isn't Your Telco or CRM - It's That They're Incompatible

When your phone system and CRM cannot connect, your team pays the price.

- ✓ Valuable calls go unlogged.
- ✓ Follow-ups slip through the cracks.
- ✓ Leadership team lacks visibility into what's really happening in the pipeline.
- ✓ Manual data entry becomes a necessity, wasting hours every week.

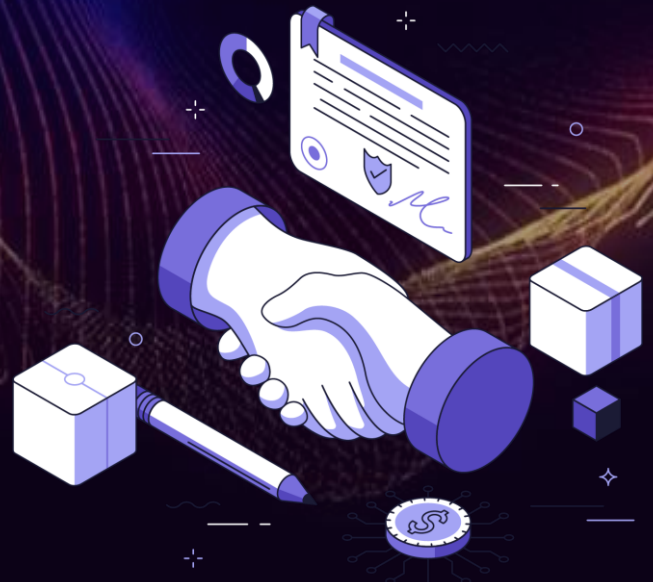

Incompatible systems create operational blind spots, and those blind spots have a real impact on revenue and growth.

Introducing VoxFlo

VoxFlo acts as the intelligent bridge between your existing phone system and CRM, eliminating the need to replace either system, or invest in costly integration projects.

Every call, conversation summary, and follow-up is automatically captured and routed to the correct CRM record.

VoxFlo works with any CRM system, including Firefish, Vincere, Mercury, and Seven20, and integrates with Telco systems such as 8x8 and Zoom Phone - ensuring nothing is ever missed, and freeing your team from manual admin tasks.

Integrate. Automate. Communicate Smarter
